Containing livestock diseases across the country

Dr R. C. Kerir, Managing Director.
Mr F. M. Malembe, Production Manager.

Mainly on Foot and Mouth diseases, but the same has now been expanded to accommodate all other veterinary vaccines.

The research and development conducted on these is product oriented and this ensures that the institute is always ahead of the filed situation so that any antisence differences that emerge are arrested immediately they are discovered to avoid spread to other areas of the country.

KEVEVAPI produces a total of 13 vaccines of which 10 are modern production techniques of deep cell cultures, field virus isolation, qualification and characterisation.

If need be, according to Dr R. C. Kerir, the Managing Director, this production capacity can easily be trebled to 50 million monovalent doses. The unit has just been expanded with facilities of technological standards and employs modern production techniques.

Kabete Unit:

Before the unit was recently handed over to KEVEVAPI, it was being run by the Kenya Agricultural Research Institute (KARI) on behalf of the Ministry of Livestock Development.

This unit produces Rinderpest vaccines for both local and export markets. It also produces contagious caprine pleuropneumonia vaccine among others.

The institute is run by a board of directors led by the chairman. The Managing Director is the chief executive. On national policy, the institute is affiliated to the Ministry of Livestock Development.

So far, there are four departments within the institute. These are: Personnel and Administration, Production and Laboratory Services, Research and Development Quality Control and Engineering and Marketing and Sales Department.

With compliments to Mrs Ouko and Mrs Kasuku: I used to see Morris and brothers in the committee or were they involved in the campaign generally?

William in the committee. They were sometimes counter-check-Kasuku: I did not hear that. But did the Minister talk about any letter which had been written by some person?

Gicheru: Who wanted to go to Koru that night?
Kasuku: It was myself and Mrs
Randiak.
Wetangula: On February 12 last year, is it your testimony that it was you and Dorothy who asked Ogier to take you to Koru?
Kasuku: I was sent by Mrs Randiak to go and look for Ogier.
Gicheru: Who wanted to go to Koru that night?
Kasuku: It was myself and Mrs
Randiak.
Wetangula: Are you sure that the Minister had instructed you to use
Collins' car during the campaign. Can you recall any occasion during the campaign that the Minister used Collins' car?
Kasuku: It was mainly Gordon, the others did not look affected.
Kasuku: Telling from the face, he was apprehensive about something happening to him? Witness indicates that he wants to sit.
Wetangula: You would assist the commission by being more descriptive of the appearance of the Minister.
Kasuku: He was looking as if he were worried.
Kasuku: He was always the first person I met at the gate.
Wetangula: Did you meet Gordon on February 13?
Kasuku: Yes, Mzee Agalo.
Wetangula: As an act of legiti-mate concern, is there anything you have not told this commission about the disappearance and subsequent death of the Minister?
Kasuku: When we went there, there was no security at the airport and I noticed there was no vehicle in the Minister's component, except the one we had gone in.
Wetangula: You said something about when you reached the Minister's home at 10 pm, we were the only visitors.
Wetangula: Are you sure that the Minister had instructed you to use Randiak as a contact in case you wanted to get in touch with the Minister?
Kasuku: Yes.
Wetangula: You would assist the commission by being more descriptive of the appearance of the Minister.
Kasuku: He was looking as if he were worried.
